THE ATLANTA OF FINLAND

SO DR. BARRETT CHARACTERIZES THE CAPITAL OF THAT COUNTRY.

Interesting Points From an Interesting Lecture—The Magnificence of Russia—Other Places Visited by the Lecturer.

Rev. R. S. Barrett, lecturer to a large and appreciative audience at St. Luke's last night. His subject was Russia.

Beginning with the entrance into Russia the lecturer described the difficulties encountered in the way of securing a passport and carrying out the manifold provisions included in it.

It is easier, however, to get into Russia than to get out of it. The police are the best organized in the world. They know where every man sleeps every night in Russia. On the other hand, nobody knows who are the police.

Your waiter at the hotel may be a police officer. Still, they are affable, polite and gentlemanly in the highest degree.

The first point was Finland. Its capital, Helsinki, is a city of 100,000 inhabitants, and a most beautiful city it is. It is the ATLANTA OF FINLAND.

All modern improvements are observable—electric lights, telephones, steam street railways, streets paved with Belgian blocks and so on.

From this city up the broad and beautiful Neva, the lecturer carried his audience till thirty miles away the golden dome of St. Isaac's church, St. Petersburg, gleamed in the distance.

Taking advantage of the leisurely trip by steamer, he told how Russia is shaped like a balloon. The bottom portion is the finest—the central portion agricultural, the lower part prairie and the neck of the balloon is the Caucasus mountains.

The upper and central parts are inhabited by agricultural people and the prairie by Cossacks, the cowboys of Russia.

The lecturer spoke of Alexander Nevski, the greatest of the earlier czars, whose tomb in St. Petersburg are laid the bodies of many of Russia's nobles, including the famous Tolstoi family.

IVAN THE TERRIBLE, who built a church whenever his conscience checked him for cutting off the heads of two or three of his sons. He was such a monster criminal that the result of his fits of penitence filled Russia with churches bearing the name of "Ivan."

Peter the Great, the greatest man of modern times, six feet seven in height, a genius of versatility never exhibited before or since, whose log cabin, the first house built in St. Petersburg, where he spent seven years of his life, stands today. In that house he built his boats, made his boots, organized the army and navy, organized the judicial system and remodeled the church itself.

On a three-cornered stool in this cabin he sat with a stick in his hand several hours every day. In him were embodied the legislative, the judiciary and the executive powers of an empire covering an area more than as large as the remainder of all Europe, and an Asiatic domain twice as big as the United States.

Catherine the great, the versatility of whose genius was only equalled by her capacity for consulting crimes.

Alexander II, who turned the tide of Napoleon's victories, and freed Europe of his terrible menace. Nicholas, who extended the domination of the Russian empire by many victories.

Alexander II, who was BLOWN UP WITH A BOMB while the unsigned proclamation granting freedom to the serfs lay on his table, who might have escaped the second bomb, after the first had exploded without harming him, but for his kindness of heart in stopping to look after a boy wounded by the first explosion.

Alexander III, who works hard at his desk, many hours a day, and who believes in amusing his people rather than educating them, and who is universally loved. Under his rule the ballet is subsidized, but no common schools are fostered. He addresses his soldiers as his children, and they salute him as "Our Father."

Arriving at Constantinople the lecturer described the former capital of the world, the strongest fortress in the world, surrounded by fleets of gun boats and men-of-war.

At last St. Petersburg was reached, and the politeness of the customs officials noted. Here the Russians are seen at their best. Great big footers, with shaggy, leonine locks, magnificent beards and costumes that rendered them irresistibly majestic.

The women of the middle and upper classes, about like other ladies, but more of the lower classes, coarse featured but pleasantly plump. A people industrious and laughing lovingly to papers in Russia, but the peasantry very poor, and yet contented.

Broad streets and avenues, paved with stone, palaces innumerable, a scene of grandeur that well illustrates the barbaric splendor of the old czars.

Churches where such stones as are worn as jewels by our western people, are in a profusion unimaginable for the decoration of their gorgeous interiors. Walls and columns of amber, malachite, lapis lazuli, gold, silver and other precious metals and stones.

Unfathomable is the wealth displayed in these wonderful buildings.

Travelers who desire to see Europe should visit all the others first, and wind up with St. Petersburg, as after seeing this city, all the others

MUST SEEM TAME BY COMPARISON. The droshki men in their blue blouses, who sit on a single seat in front, and the two passengers occupying such a narrow seat behind a gentleman is expected to put his arm around the lady's waist. It is a disgrace to whip a horse here, and the horses are the finest in the world. The droshki man coaxes and uses endearing words to urge the animal forward, and goes at a gallop or in a dead run. Should the horse stumble the driver leans on him in a helpless untranslatable way. When idle he stands behind the beast, petting, caressing and fondling him, and giving him sugar.

From St. Petersburg to Moscow is 401 miles. When the great double-tracked, stone-ballasted railroad was to be built, the towns along the route haggled about which way it should run. The matter was referred to the czar, who called for a map. He laid a ruler down from St. Petersburg to Moscow and said that was the way it should run. Consequently it is

AS STRAIGHT AS A LINE. Moscow, a perfect fairyland of superb churches and palaces; the wonders of the Kremlin, where stands Ivan's tower, with the 222-ton bell that is now used as a little chapel; the thieves' market, where five thousand people creep through a hole in the wall to sleep, to idle and to barter their wares, stolen or honestly obtained; and many other wonderful things were described.

A visit to Nischki Norgorod, the place where the great animal fairs are held, was described.

The terrors of exile and the horrors of the life of the Siberian convict were illustrated, and then the lecturer brought his hearers back over the long journey to Poland.

Poland Russianized has attained to a degree of prosperity never dreamed of under the ancient regime.

The nihilists were described. Constitutionals, who simply ask for a constitution; liberals, who want free speech, free press, free ballot and trial by jury; the radicals, who want to overthrow the government, and about 1,000 terrorists, who want to blow up the monarch with all its appurtenances.

The lecture was most instructive, and the audience was held spell bound by the wonderful stories of Russia for one hour and a half. Dr. Barrett contemplates delivering some more lectures on Russia, at a later day, and they will be looked for with much interest.

JUDGE VAN EPPS' LAW BOOK.

The House Passes a Bill Indorsing It—Will be Issued at an Early Day.

Yesterday the house, by a vote of 113 to 15, passed the bill authorizing the governor to purchase four hundred copies of Van Epps' Indexed Digest of the Georgia Reports.

This is news which will be heard with a great deal of satisfaction by other judges and lawyers throughout the state. Much of the law now in force, and particularly that which has sprung up since the constitution of 1877, is locked up in decisions of the supreme court from the sixty-second to the eighty-first volumes. Judge Van Epps' indexed digest covers that period, and it fully annotates the code.

In addition to that it indexes other acts cited in the body of the opinions of the judges of the supreme court in their last twenty volumes, and therefore it is a statistical sense an index to the entire eighty-one volumes now published. It is very probable that the senate will concur in the action of the house, which will make the publication of the work an assured fact.

Judge Van Epps says the book will be issued about the first of March next.

Licensing Stationary Engineers.

The house yesterday afternoon passed a bill amending the act providing for the licensing of stationary engineers in Fulton county.

The bill as passed was agreed upon by Senator Rice and Representatives Howell, Venable and O'Neill. It is a substitute for the two bills— one providing that the board of examiners of stationary engineers of Fulton county shall also be empowered to license assistant engineers. This was introduced by Mr. Howell at the request of the county commissioners. The other was Mr. Venable's bill, providing that the board of engineers of Fulton county shall be empowered to license assistant engineers.

The substitute adopted for both of the bills puts the whole matter in the hands of the county commissioners and authorizes them to empower the board to license assistant engineers should they so desire. It also embodies the essential feature of Mr. Venable's bill by giving the county commissioners authority to declare such board unnecessary should they consider that action necessary.

In other words, the whole matter will be under the control of the county commissioners, who will have absolute authority over the board.

Agricultural Statistics.

The bills introduced by Mr. Calvin, of Richmond, and passed by the house yesterday afternoon, contemplate a more complete and accurate system of farm statistics than we now have.

The laws now of force require each taxpayer to make returns annually to the receiver of tax returns in his county of the acreage planted in different crops, etc.

The bills introduced by Mr. Calvin provide for carefully prepared blanks, through which farm statistics in detail may be elicited. These statistics are to be collected by the commissioners of agriculture and presented to the house of representatives.

The bills also provide for the preparation and the procedure prescribed (should the bills become laws) will result in agricultural statistics which will place Georgia on an equal footing with the other states of the union.

Looking After Indian Springs.

A sub-committee from the committee on public property of the house will go down to Indian Springs this morning—Messrs. Clinton, Venable, Francis, Carlton and Atkinson, of Butts.

The purpose of the committee in visiting the spring is to examine the property owned by the state of Georgia. The state owns the spring and about ten acres of land surrounding it.

Mr. Atkinson says the property is very valuable and that it is at least fifty thousand dollars. The sub-committee's report on the property will give the public property committee additional information so that they can act more intelligently upon the bills proposing to sell and lease this property.

THE THEATER.

The summer amusement season is generally one long uninterrupted blank. The critic lies him to the sea stream and the shady grove, and the actor haunts the dramatic agency, if he has not seen the play enough to have engaged early. But it is different here this year, and the work in the field of DeWitt's will do no harm, but much to the ministers when they make their first appearance on Wednesday evening next. Those of our readers who have been kept from the theater by the war have been booked in press columns as absent at the "spring," or "the shore," will now be tempted out of their hiding to assist in the premier of the Haverly-Cleveland minstrels, with the rare and rich new first part, "Venetian Nights," the famous, the world over celebrities, Billy Emerson and Hughey Dougherty, not to forget the japs, those amusing, wonderful people, who delight in the almost impossible and incredible. An entertainment combined under the auspices of the direction of the Haverly-Cleveland minstrels, W. S. Cleveland.

IN AND ABOUT ATLANTA.

THE BRUCE & MORGAN PLANS FOR THE CONFEDERATE HOME

Adopted by the Committee on Building—The Firemen Will Wear New Uniforms Now—A Painful Accident.

Yesterday Bruce & Morgan's plan for the soldiers' home was adopted by the committee. Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Neuman each submitted plans with Mr. Bruce, but the latter's drawings met with the approval of the committee. The matter will now have to go before the directors for formal ratification, and then bids will be advertised for at once.

The plan adopted is for a building of wood 175 feet long and 100 feet wide at its broadest point. It will be partly three and the remainder two stories in height, and will contain about fifty rooms, averaging about 12x16 feet in size.

There will be broad verandas, ample, hallways, commodious offices, diningroom, kitchen, linen closets and other rooms necessary.

The building will be crowned with a tower and a number of turrets.

The home will front westward, and when completed will be one of the most beautiful structures around Atlanta.

The rooms will be large enough to accommodate at least two persons, and the arrangements are as near perfect as is feasible in a building of that character.

The estimated cost is $22,000. It will be finished with Georgia pine throughout the interior, in beautiful designs.

THE GAY LADDIES.

Chief Joyner and His Department Will Appear in New Uniforms.

Cap Joyner, chief of the fire department, and his entire staff will appear in their new uniforms tomorrow morning.

The suits are beautiful, too. Of the sixty uniforms required for the service, all but two were delivered yesterday, and those two will be surrendered to the chief today. The suits are of a dark blue color, and are made of broadwale diagonal. The coats are single breasted sacks with a straight stitched edge, while the vests are without collar.

The pieces are good for three years' service, and are guaranteed for two years by Jerry Lynch, who made them. The breeches are of lighter material, and will not be worth more than a season's wear.

"The boys will be out on dress parade Sunday morning, and I want you to see them," said Chief Joyner. "The suits are the best I have seen in the south, and no fire department anywhere has better or handsomer."

"What did they cost?" "Forty dollars a suit," put in Warren Jordan, Lynch's head salesman, "and they were made right here in our shop. Every stitch of the work was done here, and when the boys need any patching or darning we do it for nothing. Then, too, these suits won't break down, and will always look neat."

The entire bill for the uniforms is $2,400.

THE LAST NIGHT

Of the Zouave Fair, and the Contests Will Close at Eleven.

The Zouave fair closes this evening. At half-past ten o'clock the contest between the sergeants for the silver shaving set will close, and at eleven that for the diamond earrings between Miss Julia Manning and Miss Armida Moses comes to a close.

On Monday the auction of all the remaining articles will begin, continuing till all have been disposed of.

Last night's crowd was one of the largest since the opening. The receipts at Mrs. Dykeman's booth were very large, and also at Mrs. Winburn's.

So when the fair has been a decided success, and when everything is sold off the Zouaves expect to have realized quite a nice sum.

BROKE A LEG.

W. H. Waters Steps from a Train and Breaks His Left Leg.

Mr. W. H. Waters, a Charleston, S. C., citizen came into the city yesterday on the East Tennessee with a newly broken leg.

The limb was broken by the gentleman stepping from the train while it was in motion. Mr. Waters left Chattanooga on the train yesterday, and at Rockmart stepped off before the train stopped. As he leaped to the ground his left foot struck the side of the car with sufficient force to fracture one of the small bones just above the ankle. Surgical attention was rendered after the train reached Atlanta. Mr. Waters is now resting easily at Mrs. Gaither's boardinghouse on Mitchell street.

SIX COUNTIES TO ENTER

The Great Competitive Display at the State Fair.

MACON, Ga., September 20.—[Special.]—General Agent H. H. Cary, of the state fair, is in town today and gives most encouraging reports of the great success the fair will be. He declares that in every section of Georgia he has visited he finds the people greatly interested in the exhibition, and that they are coming as exhibitors and spectators.

Agent Cary says the county displays will be very fine. So far six counties have entered for the best county display, to wit: Talbot, Houston, Jasper, Wilkes, Washington and McIntosh. It is very probable that at least three more will enter. But little space in the exhibition buildings now remains untaken, and the management will be forced to begin to economize, in order that as many as possible be accommodated with exhibition room. Agent Cary has now gone on an extensive tour in southwest Georgia.

GENERAL ALGER'S VISIT.

MICHIGAN'S CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Prises Through Atlanta—He Tells What He Thinks of the City—All Sectional Feeling Should Cease.

"This is my first visit as far south as this," General R. A. Alger, of Michigan, who during the last campaign had dreams of being nominated by the republican party as their standard bearer, arrived in Atlanta yesterday, with a party of friends.

General Alger is a solidly looking man, with peculiarly bright black eyes, a saw-tooth complexion, and snow-white mustache and goatee.

"I am passing the time," he continued, "between the reunion of the two armies at Chattanooga, and a reunion of the army of the Tennessee, which will take place at Cincinnati shortly, by visiting the southern cities. I came through from Chattanooga, by the morning train, because I wanted to see the country by daylight."

"Have you seen Atlanta?" he was asked. "I have driven all about the city with my friends this afternoon. I heard that Atlanta was a thriving city—people are continually singing its praises—but I was not in the least prepared for all that was shown me. Besides the air of business prosperity, I was struck with the many beautiful residences and homes which I saw. We also visited the battle grounds around Atlanta."

"Were you able to locate the points of interest?"

"Yes, General D. M. Poe is with me. He was General Sherman's chief of engineers, and had the plans of all the fortifications on both sides. He was able to locate the spot where every battery was stationed and where each engagement occurred."

"Were you with Sherman's army, general?"

"I was with him for a short time at the beginning of the war, but I was transferred to the army of the Potomac and was with that force most of time."

"How is the feeling toward the south in Michigan?"

"I am tired of hearing the expressions north and south. It is all one country now, and such a feeling between the sections ought not to exist. Of course we hear the expression that a man is a southerner frequently, but I think every feeling but a friendly one is fast dying away, and I hope soon to see no sectional feeling whatever."

"In the next political campaign will you—"

"What is the population of Atlanta? Ninety thousand?"

"I had no idea it was so large. This part of the country has a great future before it, and though the increase in the valuation of property may be a little slow, it is bound to come."

"We leave tonight at eleven," he continued. "for Birmingham, and we will pass an entire day there. We will then go to Nashville and to Louisville, reaching Cincinnati just in time for the reunion."

Other gentlemen then gathered about General Alger and joined in the conversation. Several prominent confederate veterans were introduced to General Alger. He seemed happy to meet them and talk over old battles.

The other gentlemen with General Alger were William C. Goodloe, of Kentucky; General D. M. Poe, Henry F. Lester and George H. Hopkins, of Detroit, and A. L. Bliss, of Saginaw.

The party was met at the depot by General Lewis and Messrs. Alton, Hugh and Ed Angier.

After a few minutes passed at the Kimball house, the party entered carriages and were driven all over the city and its suburbs. Just before dark they reached the Capital City club, and after a few minutes' stay, returned to the Kimball house.

Toward 10 o'clock General Alger and his friends went to the sleeping car which was to take them to Birmingham.

The little son of Mrs. Z. T. Nash, of Duxbury, Mass., suffered terribly with salt rheum, and it was thought he must die. But he was cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Some peevish, querulous people seem mere bundles of nerves. The least sound agitate their sensibilities and ruffles their tempers. No doubt they are born so. But may not their nervousness be ameliorated, if not entirely relieved? Unquestionably, and with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By cultivating their digestion, and insuring more complete assimilation of the food with this admirable corrective, they will experience a speedy and very perceptible gain in nerve quietude, dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation and rheumatism yield to the Bitters.

Economy and strength are peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, the only medicine of which "100 Doses One Dollar" is true.

What is sweeter than roses That bloom in the beauty of June? Or the steady and fragrant lilies Whose bells ring a summer tune? Ah, sweeter the roses blowing On the cheeks of those we love, And the lily of health that is glowing The cheeks' red rose above.

But how soon the lily and the rose wither in the faces of our American women. Why is it? Simply because so many of them are victims of weakness, irregularities and functional derangements incidental to the sex. If it were not for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription all these beauty and health-destroying ailments might be warded off, and we would hear less about women "growing old before their time."

To regulate the stomach, liver and bowels, Dr. Pierce's Pellets excel. One a dose.

"TO THYSELF BE TRUE, Then Canst not Man Say Thou Has Been False to Any One"—A Paraphrase Question Involved in This Article that All of Atlanta's Best Citizens Should be Cognizant Of.

There has been a great deal said and written recently about flour. Gentle reader do not lose sight of the old saying of "The proof is in the pudding" in chewing the fat.

Now, we are representative merchants, and reliance can be placed in what we say. We open, without fear of contradiction, or that our statement can be refuted or contradicted by facts, that Hoyt & Thorne's Royal Patent Flour is the purest, best, and most reliable for bread and pastry purposes in the city. We are not afraid of a test, a trial test, a competitive test, or any other test, home or the exposition, or anywhere.

Now, for your satisfaction, buy five pounds of any of the said best flour in the city, bake them side by side; whichever of the flour baked yield the best, sweetest, lightest loaf of bread, or if it belongs to the best of the best—not our best, but best in the highest sense. Try it my friend—try it and like the competitive display of "Best Loaf of Bread" at the last exposition, in which, without our knowledge, a lady baked with our flour and won the handsome $7.50 range offered by Walter Wood, for the best loaf of bread. In the face of the fact that every flour in Atlanta was represented by an expert in the culinary line, Hoyt & Thorne's flour was found to be the best, won the range, and can do it again; so do not be misled but try for yourself. If your flour is not what it is represented, we will refund your money.

Our fresh, white and crisp Saratoga chips have arrived. Our Boston Butter Biscuits have arrived—best for oysters, our 6 and 8 pound Dove Hams have arrived, as well as some unvarnished Breakfast Bacon. We have also just wonderful Elastic Sausage. Have you ever examined its quality, merit, etc.? Our Pure Vermont Maple Syrup has also come at last. It is the finest of maple, soap and sea. We have a bargain in Higgins Soap, our new Requisite, and Neuchâtel Cheese has again arrived. My friend, if you desire something strictly first-class in groceries, you are now put upon notice where to get it. Our goods are absolutely fresh. Our Ice Cream still leads. We have just received fresh invoices of cracked Wheat, Rolled Oats, Avena, Oat Meal and all cereals. On the 14th, we are from the top of Kansas mountain the grand aerial pyrotechnical display, given complimentary by Mr. Joseph M. Brown, to the general passenger and ticket agents of the United States, here in convention on that day. We tell you it will be finer than any of its kind. Noia Bena.

WHO WILL GET IT.

A Popular Grocer on Peachtree Street Offers $25.00 For the Best Loaf of Bread Made of His Flour.

Mr. J. J. Duffy, one of the most popular retail grocers in the country, comes to the front this morning and offers $25 for the best loaf of bread made out of Duffy's Superlative flour, and exhibited at the coming Piedmont exposition. This is quite a liberal offer, and will, no doubt stimulate a great many people in the culinary line. The flour that Mr. Duffy has been selling—Duffy's Superlative—is said by those who have tried it, to be the very best. This being the case, Mr. Duffy, in making this offer to the ladies of Atlanta, will doubtless secure a large patronage for his flour. It is to be remembered that this loaf of bread is to be made only from Duffy's Superlative, and no other flour will be brought into competition. Mr. Duffy is not afraid to compete with other flours, but feeling that his flour is the best of all, offers $25 as a prize to the one making the finest loaf of bread out of it.

It might be added in this connection that Mr. Duffy has been a long one of the leading retail grocers of Georgia. He keeps everything that is usually kept in a grocery store, and sells his goods at a reasonable profit. Being located on one of the finest streets in the city, Peachtree, he has a fine trade among the best class of people.

Now young ladies and old ladies, all who cook and all who eat, remember that Mr. Duffy offers the handsome sum of $25 for the best loaf of bread made out of Duffy's Superlative flour, exhibited at the exposition company. The company will appoint judges to decide the matter.

MEATS ROASTED IN THEIR OWN JUICES, BY USING THE WIRE GAUZE OVEN DOOR

FOUND EXCLUSIVELY ON THE CHARTER OAK STOVES & RANGES.

There is not a Cooking Apparatus made using the Solid One Door by this the best of weight of meat from twenty-five to forty per cent. of the meat roasted in other words, a rib of beef, weighing ten pounds, roasted medium to well-done will lose three pounds. The same roasted in the CHARTER OAK RANGE using the WIRE GAUZE OVEN DOOR, loses about one pound.

To allow meat to shrink is to lose a large portion of its juices and flavor. The above does not separate, and is becomes tough, tasteless and unpalatable.

"You can fool ALL the People SOME of the time, and SOME of the People ALL the time, but you can't fool ALL the People ALL the TIME."

There's a good deal of "solid horse sense" in the above phraseology peculiarly applicable to the clothing business when show windows and newspapers overflow with announcements

Like this: THIS SUIT $10.00 Worth $20.

And this: REDUCED FROM $25.00 Now $11.99.

And we find a refreshing originality in a recent advertisement which offers:

This Suit $20---Worth $20

There are two many in the clothing business who believe the American people like to be humbugged.

We hope you don't take stock in this humbugging theory.

There is only one sure foundation for success and that is: Actual Merit in Merchandise, Good Clothing, Substantial Fabrics, Thorough Workmanship, Durable Trimmings, Style and Fit, which naturally calls to mind the stock of
